Masked gunmen form funeral guard as thousands line route for Sands

RELEASE (UPI Special) — Masked and uniformed Irish Republican Army soldiers armed with rifles, formed an honor guard today for the funeral of terrorist Bobby Sands.

Thousands lined the procession route to watch Sands' brown-painted casket, covered by his IRA black beret and gloves, carried from St. Luke's Catholic Church to a special Republican plot in Milltown Cemetery.

Just hours before the funeral, police fought Catholic youths in a street battle that resulted in the first fatalities since Sands died on Tuesday, the 66th day of a hunger strike at the Maze prison.

Gunman ends Lennon legacy to pop music

NEW YORK (UPI) — John Lennon, the singer-songwriter who helped make the Beatles musical superstars and pop culture legends in the 1960s, was killed in a late-night spray of gunfire Monday outside his luxury apartment in New York City. His body was found by police outside the apartment.

Their producer and by year end they were on the charts as the Beatles. Their fifth single, "Hold Your Fire," was released on Tuesday.

LONDON — The Queen has endorsed a bereaved mother's fight to stop newspapers buying the inside story of the Yorkshire Ripper. The campaign could lead to legislation to end chequebook journalism in Britain.

Doreen Hill, mother of the Ripper's last victim, a 17-year-old student, said she was "heartbroken" by the Queen's private writing on behalf of the people.

By Bob Pomerantz Toronto Star
The ribbon's being cut today on the $122 million Canada's Wonderland in a style befitting a Cecil B. DeMille Hollywood epic — lavish, ostentatious and with an expected cast of more than 40,000.

At 2 p.m. a fanfare is to sound. Fort York soldiers are to take up arms and 10,000 balloons and 350 white doves — each dove costs $7 — will be released.

At the same time, a mammoth waterfall and fountain is to start gushing the world's best woman.

ATLANTA (UPI) — Fishermen have found the body of a youth in the Chattahoochee River, the 21st victim of child killers.

Sgt. D. L. Hendrix, County police, said that of a National Enquirer, the publisher of the magazine, had won a victory in the court.

Only a one-lane road was closed at the spot where the body was found and authorities finally had to tow four-wheel-drive vehicles to the body out and deliver it to the hospital.

Dedicated to the Memory of
Mrs. Nannette Hallpike

We will remember . . .

- her crossed-arm stance
- the 'hands-through-the-hair' gesture
- those mysterious trips to the washroom
- all the May Day practices, hoops, clubs, pyramids and marching
- her speedy exit Thursday 3.31
- at the entrance to room 10 'Come on ladies!'
- sitting on the desk, reading aloud

. . . with love.

Address by Dr. S.L. Osborne at the Memorial Service for Mrs. Hallpike, 9 September 1980.

We give thanks this night for the life and work of Mrs. Hallpike.

From the very day she entered this School to offer herself as a teacher, it was evident to me that for her the person was more important than the thing, the life than the letter.

Every student of hers knew the cost of discipline, the virtue of hard work, the necessity of undivided attention, and the reward of a task well done.

She placed a high price upon honesty, in thought and in intent, in speech and in act, in particular that depth of honesty that probed our minds and startled us with the poignancy of its thrust.

She was always searching for the truth; for her the half-truth was never more than an escape from responsibility. She was quick to perceive honour and integrity: when she found them her eyes lighted up in delight.

To her, beauty could be found in the expression of one's thought both in writing and in speech. More than once have I seen students come out of Mrs. Hallpike's class with tears in their eyes, having just seen a wondrous vision of the excellent unveiled in a manner they had never experienced before. How many of them lost all sense of time when she discoursed on the wonder of poetry, or the power of drama, or the grandeur of the novel, I shall never know: but they will be measured by the hundreds. She infused them with the love of language, until it became the very food of the soul.

Mrs. Nanette Smith Hallpike
O.L.C. 1955-1980

Now she is gone from our midst - and yet she still lives in the memory of all who knew her, a perceptive communicator of the world's treasury.

Principal's Message

It is accepted wisdom that if you have an important job to get done in a hurry ask a busy person. Glancing through the pages of this book one cannot but be impressed with the wealth of activity that takes place in our school. Given that our enrolment is small, it can be assumed that an awful lot of girls must be very busy. This is a good thing.

Each girl who arrives at Trafalgar Castle comes seeking her special dream, she brings with her her special gifts. Most girls are successful at molding their dream from the material they find at hand after they get here; they are equally successful at melding their gifts with those of their schoolmates. However, each year a few fail to find what they came seeking.

My advice to this latter group is to get involved. It is an old cliché but still valid - a busy person is a happy person.

It is sometimes argued that if a girl gets committed to extracurricular activities her marks will drop. I cannot accept this proposition. Proof that the opposite is often the case lies with the two editors of this excellent publication. Between them they have put in hundreds of hours making this book a reality. Still they are both in the Honour Society and vieing for top spot in their class. As always it is just a matter of organization and priorities.

If further proof was needed that involvement is a positive factor than a look at the faces that populate these pages will demonstrate that time and again the girls that participate and lead are the same girls who achieve academic success.

I conclude, therefore, with the admonition that every girl get as involved in school activities as time will permit. You will never regret it and you will look back through these pages in years to come with a sense of achievement and a feeling of pride that you were a vital part of this school.

Craig Kamcke

Craig Kamcke, Principal

Dean's Message

Dear Students,

During the past few years several girls from this school have gone on to school in Switzerland. One of these girls - Ruth - wrote to tell me about her life there, and concluded her letter by saying, that, when things were difficult, she was helped by remembering a story that had been told in Chapel here.

Once upon a time there was a Queen who wanted her kingdom to be as beautiful as possible, so she sent for two of her servants. "I wish to find out if my kingdom is the way I would like it to be. You," she said to the first man, "take this sack, and bring me back one of every kind of flower you can find. And you," she told the second, "see if there are weeds left anywhere."

The two men left, and some time later they reported to the Queen.

As the first man entered the room it was filled with the scent of flowers from his bulging sack. "Your kingdom is beautiful, Your Majesty" he told her. "Did you see any weeds?" he was asked. "No," he replied, "not one; but I wasn't looking for weeds."

The second servant appeared with a sack filled with weeds, and a dismal tale to tell of the ugliness all around. He hadn't seen a single flower!

Both men had travelled the same land, had the same experiences, but each found only what he wanted to find.

So, in school, in University, in any job, if you look for injustice, prejudice, unfair treatment you will find them all. If you go expecting to meet friendliness, consideration and understanding, your expectations will be fulfilled. What you are going to experience will depend largely on yourself, and your attitude to life.

Someone has expressed the same thought very briefly -

Two men looked out through prison bars -

The one saw MUD - the other stars!

so LOOK UP!

Good wishes for the future to all who leave us, and a Happy Holiday to all who will return in September.

Affectionately,

Dorothy Perry

Each year at Trafalgar, new girls come and old girls go. They become part of this overgrown "family" of ours for a while and then continue on into life cherishing the friends and the memories that they have made here. You have all been a part of this family, just as I was. You have participated in the traditions that make Trafalgar so different from many of the other schools and most of you lived under the looming roof of the Castle, with all its beautiful decor.

If you gave something to Trafalgar then you most likely got something back. There is the ever present opportunity to participate, whether it be in sports, theatre, music, a dance, the options are open to everyone.

Frances Bacon once said that real desolation in life was to be without a sincere friend. Trafalgar will always be your sincere friend no matter where you are, or what you are doing. The friends that you make here, you will have for life, for you have shared sisterhood. Dances, concerts, school outings, roommates, look back on these memories and cherish them.

I will miss all of you and wish you luck in everything you do.

Strive to be happy and make it contagious.

Love always,

CLASSES

The Graduating Class of 1981

Catherine Berridge is one-third of our Trinidadian trio. "Freckles" can always be found conspiring with Gita and Shirlyn. She hopes to give Medicine or Science a try. Best of luck.

Carolyn Baboolal has graced Upper Main Hall with her presence for a year. Always seen with Catherine discussing social events in T'dad she found time for "Hiroshima." We wish her luck in the future.

Sue Umphrey quickly became known as Nancy's sister and she was one of Santa's elves at the Christmas party. Sue hopes to study Business down in Michigan and we'll miss her.

Lesley Crolla has been here two years. Twink thinks she'll have lots of bambinos but Lesley insists she'll become a lab.-tech. Won't it be good to not have to give in your car keys to Mrs. Perry next year?

Our French resident, Dominique McCaughey is enjoying her first year in Ontario at T.C.S. She plans to become a lawyer and can often be found with a pizza sub watching Magnum. À bientôt.

This year's Social Convenor and Prefect, Erin Smith has lasted two years. She co-starred in "Memories," the privileged one wearing jeans. Erin hopes to go into Phys. Ed. at Brock next year.

The fiery-haired Laurie McQuarrie is the Grade 10/11 Prefect who after two years at Trafalgar runs tuck-shop. She's famous for her Florida orange juice and is one of the May Day counselors.

Shirlyn Hunt came to T.C.S. in '79. A Prefect, she can always be forced to open OLIQG with the right words. She has run up quite a taxi fare bill over the winter. Have a good flight back to Nassau!

Inez Balderas has been here for 2 years. The only Mexican Gr. 13, Mrs. Perry always finds her watching "Trapper" or late movies. Adios amiga.

Bernadette Chan is not to be confused with Bernie. This is her first year at T.C.S. and she often boils noodles with Jessica in the Grade 12 bathroom. She took part in many sports.

In Gita Seetaram's first year at Trafalgar, she was producer of "Hiroshima." She's famous for being late for breakfast and complaining about the bad Canadian weather. She also hopes to study law.

Dawn Hanna came in 1980 from Nassau. Her words as a reverend in "Hiroshima" were "Lord, I believe." She'll always be remembered for her single braid and dazzling smile. We know she'll be P.M. of the Bahamas one day.

Our day girl Prefect, Sarah Read is here even before we eat breakfast. Last year she was head of A.A. Amy's semi-roommate, she'll attend University in the fall.

Amy Leung is the Grade 12 Prefect and this is her 2nd year. She is great friends with Sarah and loves to play basketball. She hopes to take Business at U. of T. next year.

Valerie Munn arrived just after Xmas. She likes reading best sellers, making coffee and watching T.V. but she doesn't like studying for Bio. tests. She and Bernie keep gerbils in their room to keep Mrs. Halliday away.

Bernie Schmidt is an old girl recently returned from Belgium. She looks forward to getting the Chapleau Sentinel in the mail. Next year - look out Suagen Maitland Hall.

Christina Siu's first and last year here was quiet. She is a member of the Honour Society and we hope she'll be an Ontario Scholar. Living with Dawn and Gita was really educational.

Helen Lai is in her 2nd year and she's A.A. president. She helped set up a good sports program and for that we are all grateful. She also participated in "Trafalgar Memories."

Our Head Girl has been very active and can always be found rushing about the school with Mrs. Perry trying to keep it running smoothly. "Ruby" haunts the piano rooms, participates in house sports and her philosophy is "Strive to be happy!"

In Tina Brillinger's 5 years at T.C.S. she has been Carter House Captain, SCF President and Prefect. "Twink" was once rolled up in the main hall carpet for all of Grade 13 night. She is active in sports and drama and wants to study Television Arts.

Valerie Maggs is a veteran of 7 years and has participated in many sports. She was a smash hit in Maxwell's house play. Her sweet voice in the choir entertained us.

Our day-girl-turned-boarder, Mahnaz Katiraei has been at Trafalgar for 3 years. This Iranian loves pizza subs and her favourite show is "Mash." We wish her luck as she leaves us.

Throughout the torment of endless jokes and pranks Sue Wegenast aka Weggy has thoroughly enjoyed her year here. A great sportsman especially in baseball, Sue was Grade 13 class president. She would like to thank her two durable roommates.

The Class of 1982

Margaret Chan comes from Hong Kong and this is her first year at Trafalgar. Usually seen brightly smiling she has added her voice to the choir and to the Winter Concert as one of the 'Three Little Maids from School.'

Beth Trotter, a veteran of three years at T.C.S. has participated in the cross country run and in the house plays. Our Liberal Class President debates with Mr. Palmer on the advantages of socialism and hopes to become the first woman Prime Minister.

Muffie Bovell from Trinidad has endured the Canadian cold for four years. Although she watches the soaps she manages to find time to be Carter house captain. A horse-lover, she plans to be a veterinarian. "I GOT MY DRIVER'S LICENSE!"

Laughing and smiling, Laurie Mitchell has, for the past two years, given a little bit of herself to everyone. An active House Captain, she was also in the Christmas play and the Winter Concert. The sounds of her flute will echo through these halls.

In her fifth year, Cathy McGill, Hare House Captain, has added spirit to the school. Her roles in the house plays and the Winter Concert will not be forgotten. A canoeing expert and debater, she claims she lives for rock and roll . . . etc.

Maxwell House Captain, Anna Hestler has been here 6 years. She is also known as "Moron" or "Roscoe." Her partners in crime are McGill and Windeler. This dangerous driver lives in Pickering and hopes to meet her "man" Burt Reynolds one day.

Head of Yearbook Advertising, Melanie Silvera, alias "Mohawk" has been here 2 years. She is interested in field hockey and fencing. She wants to study orthodontistry but we predict she'll wind up on Broadway.

At the piano, Theresa Rienstra showed off her talents at both Christmas Dinner and the Winter Concert. She and Laurie can be seen on Monday mornings exchanging weekend gossip. She has a really lethal serve in volleyball no-one will touch.

The "Expert Chemist," Tracy Windeler enjoys w'ends, holidays and towndays. "Melissa, do you wanna . . . help with the LAUNDRY?" She'll do anything to be a member of a tickle train and was the inventor of Larry Logarithim.

In Sharon Eckert's first year, she was involved in the Winter Concert, choir and all house games. From her room you can always hear the sounds of Bob Marley. A travel buff, her dream is to climb the Matterhorn.

Melissa Smith wants to attend the University of Victoria to study Visual Fine Arts and Dance. "Wanda" enjoys R and R bands and Blair. She and Windy would never think of raiding the kitchen but go to the smoking area instead. "Can we take the tramp out today?"

Unlike most Chinese girls Jessica Woo does not study too hard or stay up too late. She played on the house teams and was in the House Plays. "Woo are you" is her claim to fame. We tried to get an interview with her but she was too busy making noodles.

This is Debbie Pilon's first year at Trafalgar. She is a day girl but spends more time here after school than during school time. Deb intends to become a nurse.

Late arrival, Suzanne Irwin likes to wake us up in chapel with her soprano voice. A choir member she also participated in the Winter Concert. Her contagious laughter fills the Grade 12 hall as she parties with her Mexican amigas.

In her first year at Trafalgar, Jackie Millar made the Honour Roll. She played a rebellious teenager in the Farewell House Play and participated in track and field as well as other house sports.

New girl, Grace Giacomani comes from Torreon, Mexico. She was in the choir and learned to ski at Lake Rosseau. Next year she wants to go to U. of Mexico and study accounting.

Mercedes Milbourne is well-known for raising goats. She was in house plays and helped produce "Trafalgar Memories" and "Hiroshima." The soccer and basketball teams were managed by her.

Our cross-country runner, Jenny Wang also participated in shot-put and discus at the Track and Field Meet. Not only is she trying to learn English but she also is an aspiring French student.

In her first year at T.C.S. Arlene Roy has shown us what a good sport and dancer she is. "Lady" puffs away contently in the smoking area when she is not taking pictures for the yearbook.

Suzanne Foley, an aspiring actress called "Ashley Evans" wants to be directed by Robert Redford. The Weiner was on the soccer team and debated too. "Excuse me, I want an autograph."

For 5 years Suzie Lafontaine has been involved in Drama and she took part in "Hiroshima." She likes volleyball and cats and hopes to go into computer technology.

After 3 years here, Anu Mehta will spend the summer in India. She enjoys tennis (Borg) and will be remembered for speaking Spanish in French class. One day Anu'll be a micro-biologist.

The girl from Kapuskasing, Laurie Jokinen was in "Trafalgar Memories." She spends a lot of time reading . . . mail from Pete. Some day after business school she'll be an executive.

Kim Berglund has been here 5 years and is co-editor of the yearbook. When Mr. Kamcke tells her to pull up her socks he means it literally. Her great wish is to see Bjorn Borg win the U.S. Open.

Veronica Echevarrieta likes to play tennis and was on the senior volleyball team. One of the Mexican "hombres" on May Day "Vero" is going to study architecture.

In her 4th year, Carolyn Archer is co-editor of the yearbook. She was in house plays and the Winter Concert. Our Bahamian friend likes Bob Marley and is going to Harvard next year.

Monica Idunate in her first year here has seen more of Canada than most Canadians. She danced at May Day and we wish her luck in her business management career.

Frances Bayley, our Bajan beauty has shared her first year in Canada with us and her friends from Pickering. One day we will all be using recipes by Chef Bayley.

Alejandra Paz from Venezuela has danced up quite a storm this year. "La Gorda" is a woman of many disguises. Our "amiga" will return next year to keep Mrs. Jardine company.

Martha Lopez is in the running for receiving the most mail from Torreon this year. "La nina" is always on a diet and keeps her roommate Sue out of trouble.

This late arrival, Adriane Forster from Caracas, Venezuela loves to dance to the song "Celebration." She always argues with Mrs. Jardine over the length of her phone calls.

Maria Luisa Cacep better known as "Maya" enjoyed her March in Egypt soaking up the sun. She played the guitar in the Winter Concert and was also a member of the basketball team.

"Magdi" of Magdalena Ruenes, a constant companion of Alejandra, really enjoyed basking in the Egyptian sunshine. Although she won't be returning in the fall, her warm Venezuelan smile will be with us forever.

Laura Fernandez is our cereal monster. "Lalin" played on the senior volleyball team and next year wants to study to become a dentist.

Maria Cordoba or Marilupe was also in the Winter Concert. She likes to watch sports on T.V. and to cook. She'll go to university in the fall to study accounting.

Juniors

Last night I was asked to write about Farewell House - but I chose to write about the best house. The year 1980/81 was a year of triumphs, laughter and sore throats (from cheering). This year we caught something we'll never lose - spirit! Our Seniors were always willing to give another house a fight while our Juniors fought and landed on top. I couldn't have asked for a better group!! At the bazaar we drove a hard bargain and in basketball we found we needed another 6 inches. Because of our smiles and we'll-try-to-beat 'em anyway attitude, each game was fun! It was a pleasure to be a part of you, Farewell House.

I think a round of applause must go to Amanda Heath. It wouldn't have been possible without our faithful sub-captain.

We commenced the year with good spirit and cheer
Naive as we were the top seemed quite neat
Navie as we were the top seemed quite near
Together we strove to surpass all the rest,
For deep down we knew Maxwell was best.
Our hopes and our dreams were soon to fade fast
For as points tallied up we found we were last.
Carter and Farewell were too far ahead,
So we fought ferociously with Hare instead.
With Anne and I at the head of the pack,
We decided to make a terrific comeback.
The war still goes on and our army gets stronger,
We won't be in last for very much longer.
To Anne and the others I graciously thank
For holding the ship up while it slowly sank.
But Hare, Carter and Farewell keep this in mind
For next year we'll leave you far behind.

Battle of the Sexes

The Junior and Senior Soccer Teams were coached by Mr. Palmer and Miss Anderson. Of course, they were all cheered on by Mr. Kamcke.

The Seniors "battled" the St. Andrews Seniors and there was all kinds of action on the field. There were no hard feelings as they posed together for our photographer. The junior "battled" the S.A.C. Juniors and had more fun than they had goals. The day was a success. We appreciate the enthusiasm and spirit shown by the St. Andrews players.

School Teams

Our Senior volleyball team excelled in several tournaments this season. In The Independant League Volleyball Tournament we placed second. Others were at Ridley (2nd), Havergal (4th) and Dennis O'Connor. Our Junior and Midget teams also tried their best playing in one large school Tournament as well as with public schools here in Whitby.

Commencement

The graduating Grade 12's (now 13's) listened carefully as Kathy Chester, the Valedictorian of 1980, recounted the strategy used for 'The Last Great Grade 13 Night.' She highlighted some interesting escapades that made her classmates laugh and gave the parents and new girls an insight into T.C.S. life.

More than fifty girls received scholarships and prizes for academic excellence.

Initiation Day

Gloria Vanderbilt Look Out

Initiation day started off with the banging of pots and pans around six o'clock in the morning. The new girls spent the day wearing strange garments and being laughed at by the older girls. Mercedes, Sharon, and Sue tried their best to show off their legs. It was fun for everyone and it was the only way to start off the year.

Cross-Country

They're Off!

On this sunny day Farewell's Heather McDonald won the junior race. Debbie Cann was 2nd and Michelle Hooftman 3rd. Hare won with Alison Cameron. Heather Maxwell was 2nd.

A Bizarre Night

The batty Grade 12's gave a witchy party featuring music by the Beatles, the Stones, Led Zeppelin and Bob Marley.

The Grade 7's and 8's, chaperoned by patient Grade 13's, trick or treated Whitby and came home for a spooky film. Cathy McGill led us in a rousing chorus of Hallowe'en carols.

Cookies and candies were eaten by angels, devils, doctors and a gypsy. The Spanish girls made a pinata that didn't stand a ghost of a chance and balloons and confetti kept dropping in.

The prizes for best costumes were won by Alex Paz, Anne Kandiah and Laurie Jokinen. They were very pleased to accept Mrs. Holley's famous fudge. Everyone left in "high spirits."

A Bazaar Day

This year's Bazaar raised $1,474 for our foster children, John and Sumaryati. Each house participated and Farewell House made the most money. Everything from books to baked goods was bought by enthusiastic parents.

Every girl contributed three handicraft items and the faculty and staff got involved as well. Miss Collins organized the Fashion Show that featured such world renowned beauties as Laurie Mitchell, Melanie Silvera, and Heather Maxwell. Dawn-Marie's uncle read tea leaves for visitors who were interested in the future and Mrs. Holley took care of the present with The Pizza Parlour that was a touch of Italy.

Mrs. Perry was in charge of a special table where parents could buy a book for the library in memory of Mrs. Hallpike. Inside the book there was a sticker with Mrs. Hallpike's name and the name of the donator.

House Plays

The Search for An Oscar

MAXWELL HOUSE:

"A Case For Two Spies."

This house was the winner of the "best play."

Miss Collins and the director, Mercedes Milbourne, helped to inspire the actresses to give a truly comic performance. Anne Brillinger won an award for her "cool" portrayal of Agent 145 1/2. The comedy and the laughter were non-stop. Valerie Maggs added visual humour in her shades and flowered hat. Anne Richardson in her slinky black wisp of a dress was the femme fatale. Mercedes was the bumbling spy of the old school who tried to locate the missing scientist and his secret plans.

HARE HOUSE:

"The Lottery."

Mrs. Davis and the director Dawn-Marie Molyneaux had their hands full with a twenty-six member cast. Leslie Dickson won an award for her supporting role as the old man Mr. Warner. This serious play was well handled and praised by the adjudicator for the good characterization. The reason for the lottery was never stated and this kept the audience interested right up to the ending. The play ended on a high note of surprise with Cathy McGill's hysterical scream.

CARTER HOUSE:

"Lord Byron's Love Letter."

This play was directed by Heather Tomkins and Frances Bayley. Miss Szkokan added her help and Angel Adam played the drunken man with great enthusiasm. Beth Trotter was convincing as the wrinkled old woman.

FAREWELL HOUSE:

"Parents are People."

Laurie Mitchell and Amanda Heath received an award for "best director" of this play "a slice of life."

Caro Archer and Laura Bateman were the parents of the three younger Donlevys. Lesley Perry won an award for her role of Les. She and Heather MacDonald threw the house into an uproar with their guns, knives and fire. Anu Mehta and Jackie Miller played the typical fighting brother and sister.

Anu tried to put on a convincing act for the adjudicator, Mr. B.H. Kirkham. We thank him for his support, professional advice and enthusiasm.

Carol Service and Christmas Eve

The Carol Service was a great success this year. "Maestro" McClure led the choir and the school in several carols. There were a few duets and Erin Smith sang while Laurie Mitchell played the flute.

The Grade 13's gave a "merry" Christmas party and Sue Wegenast was a jolly Santa who gave Beth Trotter an alarm clock so she'd no longer miss breakfast. Some received presents but all received candy canes. Mercedes and Melissa were forced to sing a solo. Everyone had fun especially eating doughnuts later.

Christmas Dinner

"Help Me Ruby! Help, Help Me Ruby!"

Eight Grade 12's led by Beth and Melissa started off the evening with the Boar's Head Carol. Before a great turkey dinner was eaten Theresa Rienstra played a solo at the piano. Carols were sung by everyone and then Mr. Kamcke read his latest Christmas Carol. The Christmas play was directed by Suzie Lafontaine and Mrs. Takach. Adria Paxton was the French maid, Ruby and Tina Brillinger, Suzanne Foley, Laurie Mitchell and Theresa were a happy family looking for a Christmas angel.

Rosseau

Ski

Trip

One February morning our Social Convener, Erin and Miss Murphy took charge of 45 girls in ski-suits. They all set out for Rosseau Lake. Everyone stayed at Good Fellowship Lodge including such famous skiers as Adria, Lisa Windeler, Weggy, Ashley and Gita. After skiing at Hidden Valley the girls "pogoed" at a dance. At midnight they had a short visit from some over-eager guys who "hijacked" a teacher's car. A snowball fight ended a great weekend.

Sand Between My Toes

Eight airports in two days! By the time we reached Luxor we were almost too exhausted to see anything. In Luxor we had a view of green, lush gardens at our hotel, the Winter Palace. Beth, Portia and Sharon regretted their day in the sun and even Mr. Shelson and Mrs. Holley were flushed. All were affected by the Pharaoh's curse! In Cairo, Mr. Shelson lost his travellers' cheques and Jessmin was almost taken off into the desert by an irate camel driver. Poorer in wealth but richer in experience we returned home.

Senior Dinner

Once a year, the whole school and faculty gather for a great meal and lots of witty speeches. With Mr. Kamcke as toastmaster we honoured the Grade 13 seniors. Beth Trotter brought us up to date on our graduates' latest exploits and Miss Szkokan returned to provide some words of wisdom. We all rose to thank Mrs. Halliday for her last Senior Dinner dinner. The President of the Alumnae, Mrs. Broughton, made a short speech to the school about the past and present of the Alumnae chapters.

Drama Students

Annual Drama Night

This year a Junior play was presented under the direction of Miss Collins. Lesley, Pat Burnett and Carol Theil had parts in "The Genie of Sutton Place." Great talent was needed to play Sam the dog and Abdullah the Genie. Sam's owner, Heather McDonald was also in the musical ensemble with Isabel, Jennifer and Brenda.

The major play was "The Original Child Bomb" which went on the next day to win second place in the Independent School's Drama Festival under Mr. Kamcke's and Mrs. Takach's direction. Rev. Dawn Hanna preached the sins of Hiroshima to us while the producers Gita and Mercedes bit their nails. Our victory at Trinity School was notable because we were the only girls' school ever to get into the finals.

The Memories We Share

I've been lately thinkin' 'bout this year.
All the things I've done and how it's been.
I can't help believin' through these tears
I know I'm gonna hate to see it end.

I've seen a lot of sunshine, seen a lot of rain.
I spent my first nights on my own.
But I know my latest pleasure is having Myself some friends.
It's gonna seem so funny to be alone.

Chorus:
And I have to say it now
It's been a good year on and on.
It's really fine to have so many friends around.
Lie there by the fire,
Watch the evening tire,
With all my friends and all my buddies
Sitting waiting to go home.

And they talk of home, school and boy friends,
Something we believe in.
How sweet it is to love someone
How right it is to care.
And how long has it been since yesterday?
And what about tomorrow?
And what about our dreams and all the Memories we share?

(Take care)

Days they pass so quickly now
Nights are seldom long.
The time around will whisper when to go.
There's only a week left now, then we'll all be gone
And we're gonna miss each other. Yes, Lord, we know.

And though this year's been good to me
There's still so much I'd like to do.
So many things my mind has never known.
Maybe we'll go to college, maybe we'll stay right here.
Or maybe we'll take it easy and just stay home.

Chorus

Hare House Wins! 180 Points!

Carter 2nd! 120 Points!

Yesterday, Melissa Smith equalled her high jump record of last year. On the other side of the school, Hare house won the senior discus as well as the shot put. Tracy Windeler broke . . . one of her fingernails and Heather McDonald broke the short sprint record. Mr. Kamcke was handing out the death penalty to anyone who came near the amplifier cord but enough competitors survived to run the relay. Maxwell was the surprise winner of the junior and Hare won the senior race.

Another one bites the dust.

During 1980-81 the world experienced a transition from Disco to New Wave. Sure people are still dancing but in a different way. The "in" thing is to have wheels on your dancing shoes while you move to beats such as Pink Floyd's "The Wall" and "Whip It" by Devo. Look around you. Hair is shorter, pants tighter and punk is passé (thank goodness).

The Actors' Strike in 1980 put a little dent in the movie industry but it didn't stop a new surge of movies to the screen. Horror, comedy, drama and biographies were some of the many themes. "Friday the 13th, Parts I and II," "The Shining" and "Happy Birthday to Me" shocked moviegoers but they were still box-office hits. I hear Mr. Kamcke is planning a visual autobiography titled "The Life and Times of General . . .," hmmm. Life stories were exposed on screen but more exposure took place in "The Blue Lagoon" with newcomer Christopher Atkins. Who can forget the double dose of Blues Brothers both on screen and record? The Empire "struck back" and so did Travolta in "The Urban Cowboy." While "The Jazz Singer" sky-rocketed "Airplane" took off. My favourite of all time, not only because Bob directed it, was "Ordinary People." The Academy Awards summed up the movie industry's taste best by the fact that "Ordinary

Ashley's Corner

People" took Best Movie, Best Director and Best Supporting Actor. Sissy Spacek was Best Actress for her part in "Coal Miner's Daughter" and Robert De Niro Best Actor for "Raging Bull." Designer jeans and tops are in, anything without a label is out (underwear and diapers too?). I wonder when designer kilts are going to be introduced. Hear that Halperns? People too were very big especially Larry Hagman otherwise known as J.R. Ewing. T-shirts with the slogan "J.R. for President" haunted us all summer plus the fact that we had to wait three long months to find out who shot him. Bo Derek may be getting older but she is still a "10" with audiences although maybe not with wives and girl friends. Everyone's "Little Darling," Matt Dillon was a new face to the screen. With that and "My Bodyguard" to his credit he is sure to go far as an actor of the 80's.

It would take a book to write about everything new in 1980-81. I have presented just a sample of the changes which have taken place during this time. The year has been good for everyone and the future looks better. I'd love to sit and chat but I have a date with Paul (Newman, you know) and I'm late. See you in Hollywood.

Activity Day

At 9 a.m., 150 girls invaded Saint's roller rink. It was like a family outing with the McClure and Palmer families. Mr. Shelson found a partner in Mrs. Metselaar while Tracy and Melissa got it on. We also had a great tour of the McLaughlins' mansion and gardens in Oshawa. After one of Kamcke's Burgers we all settled back to watch "The Goodbye Girl."

Are you sure we have to wear these?

Skatetown T.C.S. - Are we going the wrong way?

Editor's Page

Carpe diem is a Latin phrase which means literally “pick the day” or make the most of each day. This is the theme of the 80-81 yearbook. We’ve managed to take pictures of everyone making the most of every day.

We’re glad to be the first yearbook editors to have a double spread of colour. We hope that next year it will be possible to have more colour pages but the yearbook staff will need a head of Advertising as good as Melanie Silvera.

Entering the “world of yearbook” we discovered that there was more to editing than just cutting pictures. There was even an entirely different language. We learned the meanings of such words as: pica, copy key, ladder, 3-R planner, 30 point headline and reverse print. With such decisions as choosing the perfect cover and the size of headlines and print we might have had a nervous breakdown. But we were saved by the support of our publishing representative, Mr. Joe Sweet and our staff advisor, Mrs. Holley.

Using Room 10 as our “office” we left behind layers of glue on Beth Trotter’s table. How many times did Beth have to literally pull herself away from Miss Collins’ English class?

All year we have been asked “When do we get the yearbook??” You don’t need to ask anymore. This book is filled with achievements and memories; a collection of photographs and copy that will remain permanent and ageless.

Carpe diem.

Joan arrived at our school in September 1969, the winner of the Hazel Bone McDowell entrance scholarship, a diminutive ray of sunshine from Nassau. By September 1970 she had proved her academic ability when she was accelerated to grade 9 where she was chosen by her classmates as their representative on the student council. In June 1975 Joan, now the Grade 9 Prefect, graduated in the top third of her class and went on to the University of Toronto.

For six years Joan gave of herself as she participated in many of our school activities - Speech Arts and Drama, choir, the Athletic Association, the Student Christian Movement and the Yearbook. She was also chosen by her fellow students to be one of the May Queen's counsellors. She was aptly nicknamed 'Sunshine' by her fellow seniors in her graduating year.

Joan was killed in a car accident in the Bahamas in August, 1980. She is remembered with love by all who knew her, a fine example of our motto 'Veritas, Virtus, Venustas.'

Both sides agreed to "negotiate their full relations so that new conflicts will not lead to catastrophic results."

In the agreement hammered out under intense national and international pressure the government admitted the plane attack was clearly against the rule of saving a world rather than political means. Secondly also accepted part of the blame saying the incident possibly could have been avoided if there were no terrorism, surveillance and
